Legal Case Simulation
Sunday, March 20, 2022
9am-1pm
512 Duncan Student Center

Have you wondered what it’s really like to practice law, what it takes to analyze a legal case? Notre Dame Alumnus and experienced attorney, John Moore, Class of ’82, is hosting a 4-hour, hands-on, simulation workshop, “Should I Be A Lawyer: The Experience,” to help students get a better grasp on what it is that lawyers actually do. The workshop will follow a legal issue from start to finish. Participants will be divided into two teams to assist an attorney in representing either the Plaintiff or Defendant throughout the day. Students will help gather facts, conduct legal research and analysis and develop a plan for fact-finding in discovery. Each team will prepare a plan for advocating their position and negotiating a resolution through a simulated mediation. The day will also include a discussion of law school, legal careers and position your future career as an attorney at the highest aspirational levels. The event is limited to 24 participants.

Apply to participate in this experience by filling out this form or clicking the Apply button on Handshake
